Headline:
Dry and bright Sunday, scattered showers later.

Today:
A dry and bright morning for many after a chilly start with some occasional sunny spells, but with showers to the east. Showers developing more widely through the afternoon, these occasionally heavy, but starting to ease later. Maximum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Tonight:
Any lingering showers easing to leave a dry and clear evening, with temperatures falling allowing a local frost to form. Cloud and rain pushing into west by dawn. Minimum temperature -1 deg C (30 deg F).

Monday:
Cloudy and damp through the morning before rain eases to the south. Bright with showers and sunny spells by the afternoon. Feeling warm in the sunshine, but locally frosty overnight. Maximum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Less cold and mainly dry and bright Tuesday but showers possible later. Dry, fine and milder during much of Wednesday and Thursday, but chilly with local frosts overnight.
